Useful Terms

Conjunction

A conjunction is a word or phrase that links clauses or sentences.

e.g. addition also, furthermore, moreover opposition however, nevertheless, on the other hand reinforcing besides, anyway, after all explaining for example, in other words, that is to say listing first(ly), first of all, finally indicating result therefore, consequently, as a result indicating time just then, meanwhile, later

Sentences

A sentence can be simple, compound or complex.

A simple sentence consists of one clause: It was late.

A compound sentence has two or more clauses joined by and, or, but or so. The clauses are of equal weight (they are both main clauses): It was late but I wasn't tired.

A complex sentence consists of a main clause which itself includes one or more subordinate clauses: Although it was late, I wasn't tired.

(The subordinate clause beginning with although is underlined and is used to add more detail into the sentence)

Clause

A clause is a group of words that expresses an event (she drank some water) or a situation (she was thirsty/she wanted a drink). It usually contains a subject (she in the examples) and verb (drank/was/wanted)

Simile - comparing one thing with another using the words "like" or "as" e.g. as cold as ice Metaphor - comparing two things by saying that one thing is the other (not using the words like or as) e.g. the morning was a blanket of warmth wrapped around me.

Personification - describing non-human things in a human way e.g. The tree waved its arms in the wild wind.

Alliteration - using the same sound at the beginning of words - five friendly fish Onomatopoeia - when the sound of the word reflects its meaning e.g. zoom

Adverbials

A word or group of words that explain "when", "how" or "where" the action takes place. They can come before or after a verb e.g. "when" – The train finally left the station, "how" – The boy ran quickly through the field, "where" – The children ran outside.

Adverbials can also be used to compare the way in which actions are done e.g. Fiona painted more carefully than Tom.
